Friday 10th July

I hope everyone is well and that you have had a good week. You will see that I have decided to go back to the old-style newsletters this week. I think it's really important that we begin to come back together as a school community and for you to see some of the wonderful learning which has been going on in school. Even though there have been restrictions we have been able to make sure that there has been plenty of fun! We are looking forward to welcoming everyone back in September and sharing the excitement with you too!

We are in the process of mapping out what school will look like in September and will update you as soon as we can. In the meantime, we will be sending out details soon of our transition events on July 20th and 21st as children get the opportunity to meet, albeit online, with their new teachers and classmates.

Thank you as always for the support you have given to the team over the last few months, we are looking forward to exploring our new normal together!

Have a lovely weekend!

Mrs L Watts – Executive Headteacher

This week in school...

Mr Kimpton's bubble: The children in bubble 3 decided that they would like to learn about and write their own Greek myths. We have listened to lots of different myths and have found that lots of them have heroes and mythical creatures. We then decided to design our own and include the equipment they would need for their adventures and where they received these items. We have also looked at all of the different Greek gods and their different personalities and stories.

Mr Portas' bubble Bubble 2 have been learning about fossils and the famous fossil hunter Mary Anning. They have made their own fossilised footprints by forming a mould in dough and adding plaster of Paris and found twigs/leaves etc. They enjoyed painting these and also making a clay tile showing animal tracks based on our class novel Wolf Brother by Michelle Paver. They have written her diary entry for the day she discovered the famous ichthyosaur at the beach in Lyme Regis!

Kris's poem

Dragon on stone

Moves with the elements.

Tastes like the past.

In packs like a tool.

It sleeps like a dormant volcano.

Eats like a diplodocus.

Breathes like a quick ocean current.

When collides like flint and stone.

Rock is the sustainment of earth.

From Kris

Moon Dragon - Izzie

Like a thief in the night, he sulks in the shadows,
Breathes dreams into heads, bathes humans with light,
Through the sky he swoops, being a friend to all,
After a day on Earthm the Moon Dragon comforts.

As we head towards the summer holidays, when school will be closed, we want to make sure that our families feel supported. Everyone will feel that this time of uncertainty has affected them in a different way but there are many different charities and organisations out there who are ready to help. The wealth of information can seem overwhelming so we have collected together our top go-to places to find advice over the summer and as you prepare for the return to school.

See, Hear, Respond

A new service provided across England for children, young people, parents and carers who are experiencing crisis due to Covid-19.

A new support hub and referral link is now available.
