

Can you design your own animal? You need to think about what it's going to eat? What type of habitat is it going to live in? How is it suited to that habitat? Where does it sit in the food chain? Does it have a strange life cycle like a butterfly or frog? You can draw and label it or even make it out of junk modelling.

What are the most extreme habitats on Earth? Can you research the hottest place? Coldest place? Driest place? Highest place with living things? You can record this in any way you like.

Animals are always breaking records. Can you find out about some of the incredible feats of the animal kingdom. For example: What animal makes the loudest noise? What is the fastest land animal? What is the biggest living thing? What is the smallest animal? What is the strongest? Can you find a fact that no-one else does?

Write a story using the following starter...

As I made my way through the thick undergrowth, I could see a clearing up ahead. I had finally done it. The undiscovered home of the...

How can we use art to make a positive change? Wagtails - Autumn term

The animal kingdom is full of some of the most beautiful and strange patterns. From the spots of a cheetah to the vibrant colours of a peacock. Can you design your own animal print? You can do this with pencils, paint or Design your own Roman chariot to race in the Colosseum. Your chariots will need to be fast but also strong to survive the dangerous races. How will you make yours stand out?

Find out about 5 key dates in Roman times and place them on a timeline. This can be a small timeline in your book or maybe even a time line that stretches across the floor!

Can you draw a picture of a battle between the Iceni and the Romans? What equipment will both sides have? Will they have similar amount of soldiers?

Choose your favourite animal and write a fact file about it. Can you include how it's suited to it's habitat? What it eats? How big it gets? You may want to use books and/or the internet to find out some amazing facts about it.

Please make sure it is always neat and tidy and only use pencil to write in your homework book. If using the internet, make sure we are being safe and also that we are writing it in our own words. Any work children are doing at home can be shared. It doesn't always have to be about our topic. We will share homework every week on a Tuesday.